

Executive Summary

Righteous Funds of Africa (RFOA)

Strategic Partners

Forum of Sovereign and Traditional Leaders in Africa

- HM Tchiffi ZIE Jean Gervais

The Forum is well positioned politically, but change needs to happen within our communities as this is where our hearts and homes are. Transformation in Africa can only take place through skills development, technology, education, local economic development activities and enterprise development. This is the reason why the partnership with RFOA has been established.

RFOA partnered with the Forum - 2012

UNITED KINGDOMS OF AFRICA

United Kingdoms of Africa

The United Kingdoms of Africa (UKA) is a non-political, non-commercial, social and economic development advocacy platform, which mission is to address, socio-economic opportunities through cultivating development goals by helping member communities to define their problems and identify solutions or ways to address them, but more importantly to economically empower and create sustainable development solutions for its members, i.e. Kingdom Communities across the African Continent.

RFOA partnered with United Kingdoms of Africa - 2015

G4D Kingdom Trust

This trust is to be primarily utilised to assist in restoring the Kingdom Communities in Africa, through the promotion and delivery of Kingdom Community welfare and humanitarian efforts including water and sanitation, launch educational, leadership and development initiatives, promote and deliver health care awareness, the provision of training, support or assistance to agricultural development activities, financial inclusion promotion and delivery, universal services and access to Information and Communications Technology together with providing advocacy initiatives under the UN Global Goals.

RFOA partnered with G4D - 2016

RFOA

RFOA and Forum

- Gathering of Kings in Cotonou, Benin restoring internal issues between Kingdoms requested by His Excellency President Yayi Boni 2012

- Summit of Kings were held in Malabo EG, RFOA being the Host of Kings, Sultans, Sheiks, Princes, queens and Princesses as well as Traditional Leaders from all 54 countries in Africa. 2013

- Re-election of the Secretary General Permanent, His Majesty Tchiffi ZIE Jean Gervais 2013

- RFOA played a pivotal role in establishing Ecobank in Equatorial Guinea 2013

- Gathering of Kings in Ivory Coast, supporting United Nations 2014

In order for RFOA to adhere to the cry of the African kingdoms, strong strategic partnerships were formed with companies driven by their passion for the people of Africa, but more importantly companies that also understand the heartbeat of Africa's people. These partners are in a strong position to deliver on needs and without a doubt understand global trade and development at its best. The strong relationship between our USA partners and all our other Strategic Partners offer a solid foundation to safeguard Africa, yet allows continuous development of international relations and platforms that have similar intentions - a sustainable Africa with strong cultural and spiritual values among the African Kingdoms.

In order for RFOA to fulfil this enormous task, both RFOA and their strategic partners form a reputable channel of world funds which ensures - through their accountability to each other and their investors - that these funds reach their intended recipients and result in a self-sustaining Africa.

SSS4 Global Brands

Chairman Jack C Sims
Vice President, Trade

Commissioner, District Heights, MD, USA

Bill Waller
COO

Head of Upliftment Projects

The Jack Sims Foundation Inc. runs extensive community upliftment projects such as:

- Hunger Games are NO FUN
- Blessings in a Box

Through our suppliers, shippers, private label partners, retailers, distributors, service providers, co-branding partners, sponsors, advertisers and company personnel, we directly or indirectly employ thousands of temporary and full-time workers.

RFOA partnered with SSS4 - 2013

T4D - Dirk Kotze

Trade 4 Development (T4D) is a premier, for profit, socially conscious and responsible company, comprising of a large network of consultants, collaborators and partners globally with a shared passion to promote economic and social development. We have in-depth knowledge and experience with solid, sustainable, credible and transparent relationships globally. T4D aims to assist emerging countries to develop their human potential and vast untapped resources, encourage economic participation, social development and access to basic human needs via new and innovative ways and strategic partnerships.

RFOA partnered with T4D - 2014

Righteous Funds of Africa (RFOA) Executive Board

The Executive Board was hand-picked, has a passion for people and possess an intimate dedication to their mandate. Both the Political and Operational Stakeholders of RFOA literally has Africa in their hands; they are the people, they are the land, and they own most of the available resources. It is of vital importance that these people need to implement a workable, sustainable plan for years to come. Due to this need, a fervently strong alliance was formed between the Forum of Sovereigns and Traditional Leaders in Africa, the Institute of African Royalty (IAR) and Righteous Funds of Africa (RFOA).

Trudie Engelbrecht

Daléne du Preez

Sarita Schutte

Hannelie M Theron

RFOA Overview

Righteous Funds of Africa was formed in 2012 as a commercial entity with a very specific mandate.

IDENTITY: The restoration of Kingdoms in Africa

MEANING: Through skills transfer, technology, construction, education, local economic development activities and enterprise development in Africa

Who We Are

Righteous Funds of Africa (Pty) Ltd is an organization that was established through faith and obedience to ensure that it can fulfill the requirements of its mandate to restore Kingdoms in Africa in partnership with its stakeholders being

- United Kingdoms of Africa
- Goals 4 Development (G4D) through its Kingdom Trusts

What We Do

RFOA is in the business of making a difference in the African Kingdom communities across the African Continent, assisting these communities to become self-sustainable utilising skills through which they can generate income and develop businesses. The aim is to empower and educate everybody in these communities in order to create a better life for all.

The African word “UBUNTU” has derived from a concept that remains close to the hearts and minds of RFOA as well as to all the people of Africa. “UBUNTU” means: I am who I am because of you and those around you. I am Because We / You are! The spirit of UBUNTU refers to the fact that we as people belong to a greater community and therefore it is important to treat others with respect and dignity.

RFOA’s mandate is to restore the Kingdoms in Africa through passing on skills and to educate and empower communities to run, manage and grow their own businesses, in order to become part of the mainstream economy. Through this process of stimulating local development activities / enterprise development, people are being taught to help themselves and restore their dignity, pride and hope by generating their own sustainable income to provide for their families first, then their communities and then the country at large.

In order for RFOA to achieve maximum impact across the African Kingdoms, it has formed strategic partnerships and opted for collaborating with other like-minded organisations, Trade 4 Development and Goals 4 Development (G4D), that want to bring and affect change across the African Continent.

The extended mandate of RFOA also includes the following:

- Fundraising
- Funding and Fund Management
- Business matchmaking services
- To facilitate resource opportunities in African Kingdoms
- To assist with international diplomatic relations and protocol
- To act as marketing and communication agent to elevate African Kingdoms on an international level
- To provide project and events management support for RFOA and African Kingdom partnership events

RFOA Operations

Executive Board

Trudie Engelbrecht

Daléne du Preez

Hannelie M Theron

Sarita Schutte

Operational Summary

The Righteous Funds of Africa (RFOA) Executive Board has a passion for people and possess an intimate dedication to their mandate. The Stakeholders of RFOA literally has Africa in their hands; they are the people, they are the land, and they own most of the available resources. It is of vital importance that these people need to implement a workable, sustainable plan for years to come. Due to this need, a fervently strong alliance was formed between the Forum of Sovereign and Traditional Leaders of Africa and Righteous Funds of Africa (RFOA).

In order for RFOA to adhere to the cry of the African Kingdoms, strong strategic partnerships were formed with companies driven by their passion for the people of Africa, but more importantly companies that also understand the heartbeat of Africa's people. These partners are in a strong position to deliver on needs and without a doubt understand global trade and development at its best. The strong relationship between our USA partners and all our other Strategic Partners offer a solid foundation to safeguard Africa, yet allows continuous development of international relations and platforms that have similar intentions - a sustainable Africa with strong cultural and spiritual values among the African Kingdoms.

In order for RFOA to fulfil this enormous task, both RFOA and its Strategic Partners form a reputable channel of world funds which ensures - through their accountability to each other and their investors - that these funds reach their intended recipients and result in a self-sustaining Africa.

Gallery

His Majesty Tchiffi ZIE Jean Gervais and HRH Zolani Mkiva representing the Forum of Sovereigns and Traditional Leaders of Africa and Institute of African Royalty, respectively

HRH Zolani Mkiva, His Majesty Tchiffi ZIE Jean Gervais, His Excellency Teodoro Obiang Nguema Mbasogo and other delegates attending the Summit in September 2013, hosted by RFOA

His Majesty King Zanozuko Sigcau of the amaMpondo Nation with Trudie engelbrecht, receiving a G4D and UN Global Goals gift.

Dirk Kotze, CEO of Trade 4 Development (T4D), at the Presidential visit by the President of the United Republic of Tanzania

Ditsego Primary School, Mooiplaas Community Leaders Training Session with RFOA Board Members Sarita Schutte, Hannelie Theron, Trudie Engelbrecht and Annemie Roelofse from Counselling@

Trudie Engelbrecht, Honorable Jack Sims and Bill Waller discussing strategic relations between RFOA and SSS4 in the USA

Conclusion

The Righteous Funds of Africa represent a non-political structure which will advance unity in its endeavours to restore the Kingdoms of Africa

United Africa

Righteous Funds of Africa (Pty) Ltd

Registration number: 2012/126378/07 | P.O. Box 740, Mossel Bay, Western Cape, 6500, South Africa

Executive Board: T Engelbrecht (Founding Member & MD), D du Preez (CEO), HM Theron (COO), S Schutte (CMO)

admin@rfoa.international | Landline +27(0) 21 813 9395 | Fax +27(0) 86 564 2380

in exclusive kingdom relations partnership with
UNITED KINGDOMS OF AFRICA

www.rfoa.international